

Reducing Team Conflict

How do you reduce tension, resolve challenges and improve productivity between co-workers?

By helping employees discover non-threatening, respectful ways to communicate preferences and discuss differences.

idXready™: Reducing Team Conflict provides teams with the key to maintaining a well-balanced workplace environment by helping individuals understand their own and others' behavior in conflict, and providing them with the problem-solving skills needed to manage adversity in the workplace.

By incorporating validated research-based assessment data, Reducing Team Conflict personalizes the learning experience for each individual. Participants discover their natural responses to conflict and learn how others may interpret behavior differently. Rich video content and a wide range of individual and group activities generate opportunities for participants to explore ways to communicate preferences and deal with differences, resulting in the creation of well-balanced, high-functioning teams that can deal effectively with conflict.

Participants walk away with the skills, knowledge, and tools they need to deal with conflict, resulting in stronger, more productive teams, higher employee satisfaction, and less turnover.

In Reducing Team Conflict, participants will:

- Recognize their unique preferences and behaviors when working on a team
- Learn what their behaviors may look like when under stress and in conflict
- Learn a model for understanding how people of diverse styles react differently to conflict
- Understand how their own and others' behaviors may be interpreted in different ways
- Discover a non-threatening way to communicate preferences and discuss differences
- Create action plans for dealing with conflict situations by exploring effective methods for coping with conflict in the workplace
